

Perspectives for CEPF
Mainstreaming
Environment Department,
World Bank

January 2005

Key Focus

Improved complementarities with Bank and other efforts to achieve reduction of threats identified in Hotspot profiles

Interest in Lessons Learned:

- ❖ How local alliances worked in specific contexts
- ❖ Government-civil society interaction
- ❖ Measuring results

Lessons about local alliances

- ❖ Degree of local participation
- ❖ Form of interaction with communities
- ❖ Potential for local sustainability

Lessons in Government-Civil Society Interactions

- ❖ Degree and form of feedback with public programs and policy-making process
- ❖ Influence of government action, e.g., ownership of management regimes, including Bank-supported.

Measuring Results

- ❖ Objective progress indicators by Hotspot
- ❖ Synergy with other efforts
- ❖ New knowledge created and shared
- ❖ Local capacity further developed
