

A detailed botanical illustration in a classic engraved style. It features a branch with several large, heart-shaped leaves with prominent venation. A circular flower head with a central disk and radiating petals is shown to the right. Below the main branch, there are smaller, detached floral or seed-like structures.

Balancing human needs and ecological function in forest fringe and modified landscapes of the southern Western Ghats

Meera Anna Oommen

2011